

I am from San Diego, CA. I went to SDSU for both undergraduate and graduate work. I teach History, Psychology and Economics. I like sports, traveling, watching TV and hanging out with friends. I live in San Carlos with my wife, Oriana, my 2-year-old son, Silas, and miniature Australian Shepherd, Renly.