

Hello, my name is Hannah Bowers and I am looking forward to being the instructor for the new studio art class at Torah High School. As a graduate of the class of '24, art was one of the courses I enjoyed most while studying there and I hope to bring the same excitement to the current students. This class will be a dive into the foundational principles of art, paired with an exploration of various media and techniques.

I encourage you to come dig into this subject with me whether you are a master artist or brand new.
