

Chava Fisher is very excited to have recently moved back to her hometown of San Diego with her husband and newborn baby! Chava has a passion for comedy and acting and has degrees in Theatre and Romance Languages from the University of Oregon. She has worked in the film industry and most recently was teaching college students for campus Jewish outreach in New York. In her free time she loves to stay active, play trivia, and have lots of lolz.