

Erica Kahn is a San Diego-based director, choreographer, and educator with a passion for musical theatre and arts education. She holds a double bachelor's degree in Theatre and Dance from UCSD with an emphasis in choreography and directing, and a minor in Education Studies. She believes strongly in advocating for the importance of the arts and is passionate about creating safe and accessible spaces for youth of all backgrounds and experience levels. Erica has been directing, choreographing, and teaching for over 13 years and currently works with various theatre companies, schools, and educational arts programs across San Diego County including La Jolla Playhouse, The Old Globe, Moonlight, J*Company, SDMT, and more. She is excited to be back at Torah for another show and can't wait to begin this process with the girls!
