

Makayla Hoppe Caltrider is the assistant editor at the San Diego Jewish Journal, where she contributes feature stories and provides copy editing services. Her story topics include restaurants, museums, schools, and more. She earned a Bachelor of Arts in Journalism from San Diego State University (Go Aztecs!). In addition to her work at SDJJ, Makayla serves as a member of the San Diego Theatre Critics Circle, a nonprofit organization of live theatre reviewers. Her hobbies include nail art, baking, and collecting “Alice in Wonderland” items.

I am so excited to introduce Torah High students to the informative and eye-opening world of journalism!